59. Self-assessment

Every registered taxable person shall self assess the taxes payable under this Act and furnish a return for each tax period as specified under Section 39.

59.1 Introduction

In terms of Section 2(11) of the Act, “assessment” means determination of tax liability under this Act and includes self-assessment, re-assessment, provisional assessment, summary assessment and best judgement assessment.

Assessment is done by proper officer. Section.2(91) of the CGST Act defines proper officer as follows “proper officer” in relation to any function to be performed under this Act, means the Commissioner or the officer of the central tax who is assigned that function by the Commissioner in the Board;

The CGST Act contemplates the following types of Assessments:

- Self-assessment (Section 59)
- Provisional Assessment (Section 60)
- Scrutiny of returns filed by registered taxable persons (Section 61)
- Assessment of non-filers of returns (Section 62)
- Assessment of unregistered persons (Section 63)
- Summary Assessment in certain special cases (Section 64)

Section 59 refers to the assessment made by registered person himself/ itself while all other assessments are undertaken by tax authorities.

Provisional Assessment under Section 60 is an Assessment undertaken at the instance of the assessee. Provisional Assessment is followed by a final Assessment.

Scrutiny Assessment under section 61 is a form of re-assessment since the self-assessment made by the assessee, which is intimated through returns is scrutinised by the proper officer.

Assessment of non-filers u/s 62 and Assessment of un-registered person u/s 63 are in the nature of best judgement assessments.

Scrutiny Assessment under Section 64 is a form of protective assessment based on information gathered from intelligence wing of the tax authorities in a particular case.

59.2 Analysis:

Self-assessment means an assessment by the registered person himself and not an assessment by the Proper Officer. The GST regime continues to promote the scheme of self-assessment. Hence, every registered person would be required to assess his tax dues in accordance with the provisions of GST Act and report the basis of calculation of tax dues to the tax administrations, by filing periodic tax returns.

59.3 Comparative Review:

The principles of self-assessment were contained in Central Excise Law, Service Tax Law as well as VAT Laws.

Rule 6 of Central Excise Rules, provides that the assessee shall himself assess the duty payable on excisable goods (except in the case of cigarettes). As regards service tax, concept of self-assessment is envisaged in Section 70 of the Act which provides that every person liable to pay service tax shall himself assess the tax due on services provided by him. State VAT laws also provide for filing of returns and payment of VAT on self-assessment basis [For instance, Section 20 of MVAT Act, 2002 or Section 38 of the Karnataka VAT Act, 2003]

59.5 FAQ

Q1. Who is the person responsible to make assessment of taxes payable under the Act?

Ans. Every registered person shall self-assess the taxes payable under this Act and furnish a return for each tax period as specified under Section 39.

Statutory Provision

60. Provisional Assessment

- (1) Subject to provision of sub-section (2), where the taxable person is unable to determine the value of goods or services or both or determine the rate of tax applicable thereto, he may request the proper officer in writing giving reasons for payment of tax on a provisional basis and the proper officer shall pass an order within a period not later than ninety days from the date of receipt of such request, allowing payment of tax on provisional basis at such rate or on such value as may be specified by him.
- (2) The payment of tax on provisional basis may be allowed, if the taxable person executes a bond in such form as may be prescribed, and with such surety or security as the proper officer may deem fit, binding the taxable person for payment of the difference between the amount of tax as may be finally assessed and the amount of tax provisionally assessed.
- (3) The proper officer shall, within a period not exceeding six months from the date of the communication of the order issued under sub-Section (1), pass the final assessment order after taking into account such information as may be required for finalizing the assessment.
Provided that the period specified in this sub-section may, on sufficient cause being shown and for reasons to be recorded in writing, be extended by the Joint/Additional Commissioner for a further period not exceeding six months and by the Commissioner for such further period not exceeding four years.
- (4) The registered person shall be liable to pay interest on any tax payable on the supply of goods or services or both under provisional assessment but not paid on the due date specified under subsection (7) of section 39 or the rules made thereunder at the rate specified under sub-Section (1) of Section 50, or both from the first day after the due date of payment of tax in respect of the said supply of goods and/or services till the date of actual payment, whether such amount is paid before or after the issue of order for final assessment.
- (5) Where the registered person is entitled to a refund consequent to the order for final assessment under sub-Section (3), subject to sub-Section (8) of Section 54, interest shall be paid on such refund as provided in Section 56.

60.1 Analysis

Provisional assessment can be resorted to in the following situations:

- (i) Value of supply cannot be determined by the taxable person, viz, there is a difficulty in ascertaining:

- Transaction value to be adopted for determination of tax payable;
 - Inclusion or exclusion of any amounts in the value of supply
 - Existence of any circumstance causing failure of transaction value declared
- (ii) Rate of tax applicable on the supply cannot be determined by the taxable person, viz there is difficulty in ascertaining:
- Classification of the goods and / or services under the relevant Schedule;
 - Eligibility to any exemption notification or compliance with conditions associated with such exemption.

The facility of provisional assessment is available only in the cases of Valuation and Classification. It is not available for determination of any other subject matter. For example, there may be uncertainty about the kind of tax (IGST or CGST-SGST) applicable, time of supply, supplies to be treated as “supply of goods” or “supply of services”, whether the supply is to be treated as composite supply or mixed supply etc. In the aforesaid kind of cases, recourse is not available to provisional assessment.

Once it is determined that this section is applicable, then the following conditions are to be fulfilled:

- Taxable person must initiate a request to the proper officer in writing giving reasons seeking provisional assessment as per para 5 of Form GST ASMT 01;
- Proper officer is to pass Provisional Assessment order within 90 days of receipt of request allowing payment of taxes on provisional basis subject to execution of bond by the registered person with surety or security for any differential tax that may be eventually assessed.

As per Rule 98(1), provisional assessment can be made by furnishing an application, along with supporting documents by the registered person in FORM GST ASMT-01, electronically through common portal. The provisional assessment cannot be resorted to by the proper officer on suo-motu basis.

The proper officer may, as per rule 98(2), issue a notice in FORM GST ASMT-02 requiring the registered person to furnish additional information or documents in support of his request for provisional assessment. The applicant shall file a reply to the notice in FORM GST ASMT – 03 and may have to appear in person before the proper officer if he so desires.

After considering the reply filed, the proper officer as per Rule 98(3), shall issue an order in FORM GST ASMT-04, allowing payment of tax on provisional basis, indicating the value or rate or both on the basis of which assessment is allowed on a provisional basis. The proper officer cannot pass an order rejecting the application of provisional assessment. Since section 60(1) employs the term ‘shall’ pass order ‘allowing’ payment of tax provisionally. Since “shall” is used, officer has to compulsorily allow provisional assessment. Further even Form GST ASMT 04 also does not have ‘template’ for rejection

The order so passed should also indicate the amount for which bond has to be executed by the applicant.. Security has to be furnished in the form of bank guarantee not exceeding 25% of the bond 'amount'

As per explanation to Rule 98(4), 'amount' shall include IGST, CGST, SGST or UTGST and cess payable in respect of the transaction

On passing of such provisional assessment order by the proper officer, the registered person in accordance with the provision of Rule 98(4) has to execute a bond in FORM GST ASMT-05 along with a security in the form of a bank guarantee. A bond furnished to the proper officer under State Goods and Services Tax Act or Integrated Goods and Services Tax Act shall be deemed to be a bond furnished under the provisions of Central Goods and Service Tax Act and the rules made thereunder.

The proper officer shall issue a notice in FORM GST ASMT-06, calling for information and records required for finalization of assessment, under Rule 98(5). Thereafter a final assessment order shall be passed by the proper officer in FORM GST ASMT-07, shall be passed specifying the amount payable or refundable to the registered person.

The final assessment order has to be passed, within a period of 6 months from the date of communication of provisional assessment order. However, on sufficient cause being shown and for reasons to be recorded in writing, this period can be extended by Joint / Additional Commissioner or by the Commissioner for such further period as mentioned below:

Additional / Joint Commissioner	Maximum of 6 months
Commissioner	Maximum of 4 years

It may be noted that, in the statement of outward supply to be furnished by a registered person under section 37(1) i.e. in Form GSTR-1, the invoices in respect of which tax is paid under provisional assessment is required to be mentioned.

If the amount of tax determined to be payable under final assessment order, is more than tax which is already paid along with return under section 39, the registered person shall be liable to pay interest on the shortfall, at the rates specified in Section 50(1) of the Act, from the first day after due date of payment of tax in respect of the said goods and /or services or both, till the date of actual payment, irrespective of whether such shortfall is paid before or after the issuance of order for final assessment¹. Likewise, when the registered person is entitled to refund consequent upon the order for final assessment, interest shall be paid on such refund at the rates specified in Section 56. As such, the registered person must avail this opportunity of provisional assessment after much thought and careful consideration.

Any claim for refund of taxes paid in excess under this section would be processed in accordance with Section 54 (refund provision), and is subject to unjust enrichment. Except for authorizing refund, this section does not by itself permit grant of refund.

¹ To overcome the decision of Ceat Limited V. CCE, 2015 (317) ELT 192 (Bom), maintained by the Supreme Court in Commissioner V. Ceat Ltd., 2016 (342) ELT A181 (SC)

After issue of final assessment order, under Rule 98(5), the applicant may file an application under Rule 98(6) in FORM GST ASMT- 08 for release of security furnished . On receipt of such application, the proper officer in accordance with Rule 98(7), has to release the security furnished, after ensuring the payment of the amount specified in the final assessment order and issue an order in FORM GST ASMT-09. This order has to be issued within a period of 7 working days from the date of receipt of the application for release of security.

60.2 Comparison with equivalent provisions under other laws:

Section 60 of the CGST Act, is broadly drafted on the lines of the erstwhile provisions of Central Excise and Service Tax law. A provisional assessment is permitted under Central Excise Act and also under the Finance Act 1994, and is governed by the procedure contained in Rule 7 of the Central Excise Rules or as the case may be, Rule 6(4)/(4A)/(4B)/(5) of Service Tax Rules. Under both these Acts, provisional assessment is carried out only at the instance of the assessee.

Under the State VAT Acts, the concept of provisional assessment “at the instance of assessee”, is not prevalent. Some State Acts have used his term to cover the cases of best-judgment assessment done by the tax authorities, in the absence of returns or records. For example, refer Section 32 of Gujarat Value Added Tax Act or Section 40 of the Orissa Value Added Tax Act.

Q1. When is a taxable person permitted to pay tax on a provisional basis?

Ans. Tax payments can be made on a provisional basis only when a proper officer passes an order for permitting the same. For this purpose, the registered person has to make a written request to the proper officer, giving reasons for payment of tax on a provisional basis. The reasons for this purpose may be a case where the registered person is unable to determine the value of goods and/ or services or determine the applicable tax rate, etc. Further, the registered person may also be required to execute a bond in the prescribed form, and with such surety or security as the proper officer may deem fit.

Q2. What is the latest time by which final assessment is required to be made?

Ans. It is the responsibility of the proper officer to pass the final assessment order after taking into account such information as may be required for finalizing the assessment, within six months from the date of the communication of the order for provisional assessment. However, on sufficient cause being shown and for reasons to be recorded in writing, the timelines may be extended by the Joint/Additional Commissioner for a

Statutory Provision61 Scrutiny of Returns

- (1) The proper officer may scrutinize the return and related particulars furnished by the registered person to verify the correctness of the return and inform him of the discrepancies noticed, if any in such manner as may be prescribed and seek his explanation thereto.
- (2) In case the explanation is found acceptable, the registered person shall be informed accordingly and no further action shall be taken in this regard.
- (3) In case no satisfactory explanation is furnished within a period of thirty days of being informed by the proper officer or such further period as may be permitted by him or where the taxable person, after accepting the discrepancies, fails to take the corrective measure in his return for the month in which the discrepancy is accepted, the proper officer may initiate appropriate action including those under Section 65, 66 or Section 67, or proceed to determine the tax and other dues under section 73 or Section 74.

61.1 Analysis

Section 61 deals with a discretionary power to a proper officer to scrutinize returns filed by registered persons to verify the correctness of the return. It is a pre-adjudication process. The process of adjudication is provided in Sections 73 to 75 of the Act.

When a return furnished by a registered person is selected for scrutiny, then the proper officer scrutinizes the same with reference to the information available with him, and in case of any discrepancy, he shall issue a notice to the said person in FORM GST ASMT-10, under Rule 99(1), informing him of such discrepancy and seeking his explanation thereto. The proper officer shall quantify the amount of tax, interest and any other amount payable in relation to such discrepancy, wherever possible.

An explanation shall be given by the registered person, in reply to the aforesaid notice, within a maximum of thirty days from the date of service of the notice or such further period as may be permitted by the proper officer.

The registered person may accept the discrepancy mentioned in the notice issued under Rule 99(1), and pay the tax, interest and any other amount arising from such discrepancy and inform the same OR furnish an explanation for the discrepancy in FORM GST ASMT- 11 to the proper officer.

Where the explanation furnished by the registered person or the information submitted under Rule 99(2) is found to be acceptable, the proper officer shall inform the registered period in FORM GST ASMT-12.

In case, explanation is not furnished OR explanation furnished is not satisfactory, OR after accepting discrepancies, the registered person fails to take corrective measures, in his return for the month in which the discrepancy is accepted by him, the proper officer, may, take recourse to any of the following provisions:

- Initiate departmental audit as per section 65 of the Act; or
- Initiate Special Audit as per section 66
- Initiate inspection, search and seizure as per section 67 of the Act
- Issue show cause notice u/s 73 & 74 of the CGST Act.

The first stage in return scrutiny denotes a prima facie scrutiny, in order to ascertain whether the information furnished by the assessee in returns is prima facie valid and not inadequate or internally inconsistent. The second stage appears to be a detailed assessment calling for records and determination of tax liability under sections 73 to 75.

In doing so, the proper officer, is also entitled to exercise his power under section 67 of the Act, which deals with power of inspection, search and seizure.

From the language employed in section 67, it appears that, these powers are required to be exercised not in routine manner but only under circumstances when there is reasonable belief regarding probable suppression or intention to evade tax.

It's important to note that, section 61(3) empathetically provides that, in case the explanation given by the tax payer in response to discrepancies informed by the proper officer, is found acceptable, the registered person shall be informed accordingly in FORM GST ASMT-12 and no further action shall be taken in this regard.

61.2 Comparative Review

The provisions as to scrutiny of returns were also present in Service Tax / Central Excise and State VAT laws. For example, Rule 12 of Central Excise Rules. Rule 12(3) provided that, the 'Proper Officer' may on the basis of information contained in the return filed by the assessee under rule 12(1), and after such further enquiry as he may consider necessary, scrutinize the correctness of the duty assessed by the assessee on the goods removed, in the manner to be prescribed by the Board. CBEC has issued guidelines for detailed scrutiny of Central Excise Returns vide Circular No. 1004/11/2015-CX, dated 21-7-2015.

Statutory Provision

62. Assessment of non-filers of returns

- Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in section 73 or section 74, where a registered taxable person fails to furnish the return required under Section 39 or Section 45, even after the service of a notice under Section 46, the proper officer may proceed to assess the tax liability of the said person to the best of his judgement taking into account all the relevant material which is available or which he has gathered and issue an assessment order within the period of five years limit from the date specified of Section 44 for furnishing of the annual return for the financial year to which the tax not paid relates.*
- Where the registered person furnishes a valid return within thirty days of the service of the assessment order under sub-Section (1), the said assessment order shall be deemed to have been withdrawn. But the liability for payment of interest under sub-section (1) of section 50 or for the payment of late fee under section 47 shall continue.*

62.1 Introduction

Section 62 of the Act can be invoked only in case of registered taxable persons who have failed to file returns, as required, under section 39 or as the case may be, or final return on cancellation of registration under section 45 of the Act. Issuing notice under section 46 appears to be a pre-condition for initiating proceedings under Section 62 of the Act.

62.2 Analysis of Provisions

Non-compliance with the notice under Section 46 paves the way for initiating the proceedings under this section. If the assessee fails to furnish the return within 15 days of issue of notice under section 46 then the Proper Officer may assess the tax liability in accordance with the provisions of Rule 100 to the best of his judgment, taking into account all the relevant material available on record, and issue an assessment order. This is also known as 'best judgment assessment'. It can be completed without giving notice of hearing to the assessee.

The order under section 62 must be issued within a period of five years from the date specified under section 44 for furnishing annual return for the financial year to which the tax not paid relates. Section 44(1) states that date for furnishing the annual return is on or before 31st December following the end of such financial year to which such annual return pertains.

Non-issuance of notice under Section 46 closes the door on invoking Section 62 although other provisions are available to recover the tax dues. If, however, a registered person furnishes a 'valid return' within 30 days of the service of assessment order, the said assessment order shall be deemed to be withdrawn. 'Valid return' is defined in Section 2(117) to mean a return filed under Section 39(1) of the Act on which self-assessed tax has been paid in full.

Section 62 starts with the words 'notwithstanding anything contrary to section 73 and 74'. Section 73 and 74 mandates issue of SCN and providing opportunity of being heard before passing order demanding tax. Further tax can be demand for a period of five years only if the existence of omissions and commissions mentioned u/s 74 are proved. The pre-condition of issuing SCN, providing opportunity of being heard and demanding tax for a five year period only in the presence of omissions and commissions listed u/s 74 is sought to be overcome by the non-obstante clause u/s 62. Consequence of late fee under Section 47 and interest under Section 50 will both be applicable in cases of conclusion of best judgement assessment made under this Section.

An order passed under this section shall be communicated to the registered person in FORM GST ASMT 13

62.3 Comparison with equivalent provisions in other laws

It appears that section 62 of the CGST Act is incorporated predominantly on the basis of provisions contained in the erstwhile State VAT Acts.

Section 72 of the Finance Act, 1994 provides for assessment of persons liable to pay service tax, but who has failed to furnish return under section 70. However, procedure contained in section 72 requires that every such person shall be given a reasonable opportunity of being heard before the order is passed.

63. Assessment of unregistered persons

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in section 73 or section 74, where a taxable person fails to obtain registration even though liable to do so, or whose registration has been cancelled under sub section (2) of section 29 but who was liable to pay tax, the proper officer may proceed to assess the tax liability of such taxable person to the best of his judgement for the relevant tax periods and issue an assessment order within a period of five years from the date specified under section 44 for furnishing of the annual return for the financial year to which the tax not paid relates.

Provided that no such assessment order shall be passed without giving the person an opportunity of being heard

63.1 Introduction

This Section is applicable to unregistered persons i.e., persons who are liable to obtain registration under Section 22 and have failed to obtain registration will come within scope of operation of this Section. This provision also covers cases where registration was cancelled as under section 29 (2). Section 29(2) of the Act covers 5 instances where registration may be cancelled by proper officer:

- (a) A person who contravenes the provisions of this Act or Rules made thereunder;
- (b) A composition person who fails to furnish returns for 3 consecutive tax periods.
- (c) A person other than composition person who fails to furnish returns for 6 consecutive months.
- (d) A person who has sought voluntary registration but has failed to commence business within 6 months.
- (e) Where registration has been obtained by way of fraud, willful misstatement or suppression of facts.

63.2 Analysis

This Section is applicable to unregistered taxable persons. In such cases, the proper officer is required to give a reasonable opportunity of being heard to such persons before proceeding to assess such person. The section begins with the phrase "Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in section 73 or section 74". It therefore appears that, assessment under section 63 can be completed independent of section 73 and Section 74, however, procedures contained in section 73 or 74 to the extent they are not inconsistent with section 63 need to be followed, while completing the assessment on principles governing best judgment assessment. Even though no return would have actually been filed in such cases, the authority to pass such assessment order is extinguished on the expiry of 5 years from due date applicable for filing annual return for the year to which tax not paid relates.

For assessment under this section, notice has to be issued as per Rule 100(2) in FORM GST ASMT-14 by the proper officer. The notice would contain the grounds on which the assessment is proposed to be made on best judgment basis. The registered person is allowed a time of 15 days to furnish his reply, if any. After considering the said explanation, the order has to be passed in FORM GST ASMT- 15.

63.3 Comparison with equivalent provisions in other laws:

Section 23(4) of the MVAT Act contains similar provision as that in Section 63 of the GST Act.

64.1 Analysis

The word “summary assessment” is generally used in a tax legislation to denote ‘fast track assessment’ based on return filed by the assessee. It allows the Tax Officer to make prima facie adjustments based on errors or factors based on the available information without an occasion for calling for further information from an assessee or inspecting his records. In the GST Act, it is used to denote those assessments which are completed ex-parte and on priority basis when there is reason to believe that there will be loss of tax revenue, if such assessment is delayed. This provision is only the first step in invoking the machinery provided to enforce recovery of dues from potential defaulters, and this requires an assessment of the tax liability. Such amounts are commonly known as protective assessments which is in a sense protects Government revenue. This section pre supposes the fact that the proper officer be in possession of sufficient grounds to believe that any delay will adversely affect revenue.

The summary assessment can be undertaken in case all of the following conditions are satisfied:

- The Proper Officer must have evidence that there may be a tax liability.
- The Proper Officer has obtained prior permission of Additional / Joint Commissioner to assess the tax liability summarily. The proper officer must have sufficient ground to believe that any delay in passing assessment order would result in loss of revenue.

Summary assessment under this Section of the CGST Act can therefore be construed in some sense as a 'protective assessment' carried out in special circumstances, where there are sufficient grounds to believe that taxable person will fail to make payment of any tax, penalty or interest, if the assessment is not completed immediately. Such failure to pay tax, penalty or interest must be due to reasons attributable to the tax payer (ex: insolvency, instances of defaulting, absconding etc). Hence, summary assessment under this Section is not a substitute for assessment getting time barred. Further, mere possibility of non-payment cannot be a grounds for resorting to summary assessment, unless there are factors indicating that such non-payment pertains to admitted or undisputed tax liability. However, it is important to note that upon grant of permission by the Additional / Joint Commissioner, it appears that the evidence available with the proper officer or his apprehension of possible loss of revenue, cannot be called into question. As per the provision of Rule 100(3) The summary assessment order should be in FORM GST ASMT-16.

The section allows the person who is assessed and is served the order so passed, to come forward and make an application in accordance with Rule 100(4) in FORM GST ASMT-17 to the Additional / Joint Commissioner, which will then be examined and if the Additional/ Joint Commissioner is satisfied, the summary assessment order will be withdrawn. As regards the contents of this application, it may be understood that the applicant may attempt to challenge the facts or reasons for the belief about risk of revenue loss and further accept to be available to respond, if proceedings under Section 73/74 were to be undertaken. Besides, the Additional / Joint Commissioner may, on his own motion, withdraw such order and follow the procedure laid down in Section 73 or as the case may be Section 74 for determination of taxes not paid or short paid or erroneously refunded, if he considers that such order is erroneous.

From the above, it appears that every summary assessment order so withdrawn under sub-Section (2), must be followed by a notice under Section 73 or as the case may be 74.

On receipt of application the proper officer has to pass the order of withdrawal or, rejection of the application in accordance with Rule 100(5) in FORM GST ASMT-18.

Many times, summary assessments are undertaken in circumstances, when a taxable person to whom liability pertains is not ascertainable. In such cases, the law provides that, if the liability pertains to supply of goods, then person in charge of such goods shall be deemed to be the taxable person liable to be assessed and pay tax and amount due on completion of summary assessment. There is no deeming provision when unpaid tax liability relates to supply of services.
